"COME OUT AND MARRY US."

Although in every age the male population has been greatly reduced by wars, no less than eight millions having been killed in battle since 1914 for example, nature has nevertheless contrived that the world's population of males shall about equal that of females. But nature fails to make provision for the fact that, while adventurous men go forth to seek new fortunes in the wilder parts of the earth women remain to crowd the more comfortable centers of civilization. It is no surprise to hear therefore that the House of Commons is grappling with the problem presented by a "surplus" of nearly two million women in Great Britain and that an appropriation is proposed in aid of the movement represented by the Society for the Overseas Settlement of British Women.

This plan of sending "surplus" women to distant British possessions though inevitably revived after the World War is no new thing in England's history. Among previous assisted emigrations of this sort perhaps the first on record occurred in the time of King James, when willing English girls were carried across the sea and "sold" at Jamestown Va., for so many pounds of tobacco required by the British chartered company which did the ferrying. No longer than twenty years ago the British government engaged in an effort to induce 300,000 young English women to emigrate to New Zealand and Australia. In the latter country alone at that time there being 257,653 more men than women. Male candidates for matrimony in those colonies ardently encouraged the movement one Australian journal, in behalf of these, urgently calling upon the unprovided maids of the "other land" to "come out and marry us!" And now, as then, a "surplus" of young women can go forth and serve the interests of the race as they can not at home. Of course propriety will require the employment of euphemism in order that maidenly delicacy of feeling may be respected, but the movement itself is based on sound principle and is desirable.

A FALSE CHARGE

Dealing again in his accustomed superlative, Chairman Cummings of the Democratic National Committee, says the Republican legislative program has been "the most complete and lamentable failure in the history of the country."

Well, let us see.
If saving the people over a billion dollars from the money demanded by a Democratic administration for running the government spells failure then the Republicans must plead guilty.

If the passage of a bill restoring railroads to their rightful owners, and rescuing the government from a situation that was running it in debt over $500,000,000 a year, is a shortcoming the Republicans are to blame.

If the enactment of a budget law and an army reorganization law, which will soon be accomplished facts as well as scores of other laws affecting in varying degrees the welfare of the American people, constitutes official incompetency then the Republicans stand convicted. But the people have observed the record being made day by day by the Republican congress and have reached a conclusion different from that reached by the Democratic chairman.

Moreover the Republicans are trying to rescue this country from an autocracy and bring it back to a republic. They will eventually accomplish this, although it may not be before March 1, 1921, after which time we hope to see a Republican administration in charge of the affairs of this nation.

THE NEW VOTERS

When Marie Antoinette was told that the poor of France were starving for lack of bread promptly pitching upon the obvious remedy suggested by her own experience, she asked why they did not eat cake. In our time the average stateswoman would reveal a somewhat wider practical knowledge of human affairs, but there are still with us men who seem to expect from women no great advance beyond Marie Antoinette's recommendation. For example, here is Colonel Arthur Shee of the British House of Commons who, in a speech opposing the admission of women to the electorate at the age of 21 declared that they were "capriciously capricious, fascinatingly facile, irresistibly irrational, ingeniously inexperienced, politically pusillanimous and wholly and charmingly incomprehensible," and therefore should not be allowed to get into politics until they knew what they were about.

New voters who are pretty as well as young, accustomed to receive with smiles the compliments of men, may be inclined to forgive Colonel Shee just because of the fun of standing under the caressing shower of his picturesque adjectives and flowery adverbs.

RADICAL ASSOCIATIONS.

It is difficult these days not to be the bedfellow of the radical, especially the sentimental radical, says the Review. As a liberal, you may be constantly fighting his view; and yet, as you confront the various practical issues of the day, there he is by your side. You opposed the Treaty in the form in which it came from Versailles and so did he—but for a different reason. You have a kindly feeling for Mr. Hoover; so has he. You think that the five Socialists should have been excluded from the New York Assembly; so does he. Yet the more he is with you, the more you are against him. For you realize how dangerous is his propaganda, which in the name of liberalism is seeking not only to prevent the return to power of reactionary forces, but to wipe out those prerogatives of the individual which have been the cornerstone of our democracy. The situation is one which requires all good Americans to have a real reason, and not merely a vague feeling, for the politics which they espouse.

SHOULD OBSERVE CAUTION

It is a matter of history that other wars have been followed by exactly the same conditions that prevail today—high wages high prices, labor unrest, speculation, and inflation of the currency and credit. It is plain to any thinking person that expansion cannot go on indefinitely. At some point and at some time the limit will be reached. There are now signs which seem to indicate that the time has come when business deflation is as necessary as it is desirable and it is the opinion of many leading financiers that the situation justifies an attitude of caution. It is all very well for business to have its head in the clouds, but at the same time it should keep its feet on the ground—From the Monthly Business Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

After inventing the doubtful over-all remedy for the high cost of clothing, the South seems to think it has earned the right to run the price of cotton from 20-odd up to 60 cents a pound.

Promises are all right as far as they go, but what the people in the valley between Charleroi and Roscoe want is action on the river road. This price of highway is the limit, and then some.

MOVE HIGH SCHOOL BACK TO SCENERY HILL

The West Bethlehem township high school, which has been maintained at West Zollarsville for the past year, will be returned to Scenery Hill at the close of the present term of school. At a meeting of the school directors held on Saturday last this decision was reached, the vote being three to two in favor of the Scenery Hill location. This action was a sequel to a very bitter fight which has been going on in the township over the high school situation.

The Men's Club of the First Presbyterian church held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Dr. Smith, Fifth street, and a splendid program carried out. There was a large representation of members.

Wheat Always Preferred Food.

While more people are living in the world today dependent upon rice than upon wheat for subsistence and a greater number of the human family live upon millet than any other cereal food, wheat is the preferred food among the higher civilized peoples. The more progressive peoples of the earth have ever been wheat eaters. Grains of wheat have been discovered in Egyptian tombs of the first dynasty, dating back 4,000 B. C., while bread of wheat has been excavated from the ruins of the prehistoric lake dwellers of Wagner and Robenhaupt in Switzerland.

His Mind in the Clouds.

Rev. George Harvest was to have been married to the daughter of Bishop Compton of London, but on the morning fixed for the ceremony forgot all about it and went off fishing. Much indignation was felt by the bride and her friends, and the engagement was broken off. But the reverend gentleman's second engagement was equally unsuccessful. Once more he forgot to come up to the church and lost his expectant bride in consequence.

Another "Origin of Dixie."

Before the Civil war the old Citizens' bank of New Orleans, having the power to issue paper money, provided quantities of bills, most of ten-dollar denomination, having the French word "Dix" on their backs. This money became popular, according to this theory, Louisiana was referred to as the land of the "Dixies." Eventually the term was broadened to include all of the southern states.

High Price Paid for Beefsteak.

The highest price ever paid for beefsteak was probably at Circle City, Alaska, a town that sprang up overnight during the Klondike gold excitement. The first beefsteak to reach there sold for $48 a pound. Every one wanted some of it, and so they raffled it off for the benefit of a hospital. Tickets were sold from 50 cents to $2.50 for the privilege of drawing a slice.

The Flowing Tide.

No one, however great his genius or high his position, is all-important to the world: its work will go on without him. There may be ripples and disturbances in the current for a time where he sinks out of sight, but the tide will soon be flowing on as before. This truth may be painful to personal vanity, but it is comforting to every generous soul that cares more for others than for self.

"French Leave."

This expression arose in the early part of the eighteenth century, through certain guests, in the salons of France, not aware of the higher acts of courtesy, leaving without saying good-by to the host or hostess. The practice spread to society in this country. Therefore, if a man left without saying good-by to his host, it was said he took "French leave."

Good literature proceeds from men of natural probity, and since one ought rather to praise the inception than the result, you should give greater praise to a man of probity unskilled in letters than one skilled in letters but devoid of probity.—Leonardo da Vinci (translated by Edward McCurdy).

Spirit Meant for All.

That spirit which suffices quiet hearts, which seems to come forth to each from every dry knoll of sere grass, from every pine stump, and half-imbued stone on which the dull March sun shines, comes forth to the poor and hungry, and to such as are of simple taste.—Emerson.

Consider Probable End.

Better it is, toward the right conduct of life, to consider what will be the end of a thing, than what is the beginning of it; for what promises fair at first may prove ill, and what seems at first a disadvantage may prove very advantageous.—Wells.

Jewish Sabbath.

The Jewish Sabbath starts at sunset on Friday, because the Jews, like the ancient Greeks, began their day at sunset and not at sunrise or immediately after midnight, as we do, who follow the ancient Romans.

MAN KILLED IN QUARREL OVER GIRL

As the result of a quarrel over a 14-year-old Italian girl, Lena Scordino, of Donora, Joseph Crisafi of Monongahela is dead while Guy

Piccolo of Donora is confined in the county jail charged with murder. The shooting occurred Thursday night last at the home of John Milaise, on Park avenue, in Monongahela and followed a quarrel between Crisafi and Piccolo during which Piccolo is alleged to have drawn a revolver and shot Crisafi at least a half-dozen times, one of the balls penetrating Crisafi's heart.

Piccolo made his escape, but was found later by Chief of Police Parnicott and Constable Jericho at his boarding house in Donora. In the shooting, Piccolo wounded himself in the knee, which clue provided the officers sufficient evidence to make the arrest.

VOLUME XX-282

CHARLEROI WASHINGTON COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA, TUESDAY, MAY 4, 1920

TWO CENTS

Will Invite Governor Sproul To Attend Charleroi Road Meeting

DOES NOT GO ON RECORD AS TO ROAD IMPROVEMENT

Meeting at Washington Reaches No Satisfactory Conclusion

TO HOLD ANOTHER MEETING

The road meeting held at Washington on Monday, under the auspices of the Good Roads Association of the county, proved to be very unsatisfactory to the representatives from Charleroi who were in attendance.

The principal point under discussion appeared to be whether the association should go on record for the proper maintenance of highways that are already improved, or whether it would be advisable to advocate the discontinuance of the building program for the present, owing to the excessive cost of road building. The organization did not go on record because of unsettled conditions at present, and the further fact that considerable opposition was manifested in the meeting to any negative attitude on the part of the meeting.

It was pointed out that approximately $72,000 a mile is being asked by contractors for building roads, and as a consequence some of those in attendance at the meeting were of the opinion that it was too expensive at this time to build roads. Others expressed the fear that if the county abandoned its building program the State Highway Department might divert the money which would otherwise be used in this county to some other section, and as a result a similar amount would not be available in the future.

Under the agreement reached by the county commissioners and state highway department the county was to build the Burgettstown-Hickory road and the highway department the Monongahela pike. The association discussed whether or not the county should proceed with the construction of the Burgettstown link, but did not go on record.

However, the president was authorized to appoint a committee to confer with the county commissioners and the state highway department to determine whether or not it would be possible to construct roads at a reasonable cost. A report will be made at a public meeting of citizens called by the association at which all phases of road finances will be presented, including whether or not the county will lose the amount apportioned this year.

During the program of the meeting Charleroi representatives made it known that an indignation meeting was to be held in Charleroi on the evening of the 13th of May, at which time the road problem will be discussed and an expression of local opinion given because of the failure

State Highway Commissioner, Receivers Of Pittsburgh Railways Co., County Commissioners, Assemblymen And Candidates Also On The List

Who is passing the buck on the river road question? Charleroi proposes to find out. If such a thing is possible, and to that end is going about its preparation for the public meeting, which may more properly be termed an indignation meeting, to be held Thursday evening, May 13, in Trust Company hall.

At a meeting of the committee of the Board of Trade held last evening, it was decided to appoint a special committee of two citizens to go to Harrisburg to deliver a special invitation to Governor Sproul and also to State Highway Commissioner Sadler. This committee will also invite the receivers of the Pittsburgh Railways company and urge them to be present at the meeting.

Already invitations have been extended to Senator Clow of Uniontown, Senator Herron of Monongahela, Assemblyman Sprouls of Donora, and Assemblymen Walker and Curran of Washington the county commissioners, and Messrs. Stahlman McDowell and Newton. Candidates for assembly all of which have been accepted, also C. E. Carothers of the State Agricultural Department. Reports from up-river towns interested in the improvement of the river road between Speers and Coal Centre indicate that these communities are booming the meeting, and they will be represented by a number of their leading citizens. Invitations will also be sent to a number of citizens of Donora and Monongahela, as well as to the nearby townships, and every endeavor is being made to have the meeting one of the most representative ever held in this section of the valley.

The road meeting at Washington on Monday only served to make the Board of Trade more determined than ever to push the preparation for the meeting, and to ascertain if possible just where the fault lay, and why the important highway between Charleroi and Coal Centre has been thus neglected. The leaders of the movement feel they have been "fed up" on promises long enough, and now some action must be taken. To this end it is hoped to make the demonstration representative of every community taking part. Arrangements will be made to accommodate all who may attend.

Now the Largest Independent Operators in Connellsville Region

LARGE INTERESTS IN VALLEY

Purchase by the Hillman Coal & Coke company of a controlling interest in the Tower Hill-Connellsville Coke company in Fayette county makes the J. H. Hillman interests, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, the largest independent coal and coke concern in the Connellsville region. The Hillman interests now have 23 mines with an annual capacity of 6,000,000 tons of coal and the size of the holdings and the extent of operations is second only to that of the H. C. Frick Coke company.

Sale of the controlling interest in the Tower Hill company to the Hillman interests was announced at Uniontown on Sunday evening. Control of the company was formerly held by J. R. Nutt and associate capitalists of Cleveland. The company has approximately 1,500 acres of coal unmined and the two plants with 714 ovens are among the most modern in the region. L. W. Fogg, present general superintendent, who built the plants in 1907 will continue with the owners and it is expected that he with W. W. Parrish who has been associated with the Hillman interests for many years, will be Fayette county representatives for the new owners.

The Hillman interests have large holdings in the Monongahela valley, and are among the large independent coal operators shipping by water. They own the Ella mine, a short distance below Webster in the third pool, and operate five steamboats in the local trade. The Hillman, Hecla, Sam Barnum, Volcano and A. R. Budd.

TAKING OVER MORE GREENE COUNTY COAL

The Greene Improvement company, a corporation whose headquarters are located in Pittsburgh, which has been buying considerable coal lands in Greene county during the past few weeks during the week filed seven more deeds for record in the recorder's office at Weyersburg. These deeds call for the transfer of coal in the Khehive section of Cumberland township. The price paid was approximately $500 per acre, and a total of 238 acres were involved in the deal.
